What is Student Search Service?

College Board's Student Search Service® (Student Search) allows students to connect with a wide range of opportunities to better understand what they want to do after high school. When students join Student Search, they can receive information from colleges and scholarship programs on majors, campus life, and ways to make college more affordable.

Benefits for Students

- Over 1,500 four-year colleges rely on Student Search to find the right students for their campuses.

- Our scholarship partners offer over $300 million in scholarships each year.

- Students contacted by colleges through Student Search are, on average, 31% more likely to graduate on time from a four-year college.* This benefit is as large or larger for Black, Hispanic, Native, and first-generation students.

About Your Data

Students and families are in the driver's seat when they use search. When you join Student Search Service, you agree to share some of your information with participating organizations. Organizations rely on this information to discover students who may be a good fit for their programs. Your privacy matters. Learn more about what information is shared or opt out at any time by visiting cb.org/studentsearch.

How to Participate

Join Student Search Service in a few easy steps:

1. Visit cb.org/studentsearch.

2. Log in or create an account by clicking Sign In on the top navigation.

3. At the top of the page, you'll be able to see if you're currently participating in Student Search Service. If you're not, click the yellow button to join.

4. If you're already participating, click the yellow button to update your info and preferences. Keeping your information up-to-date helps colleges and scholarships send you relevant communications.

* More than 90% of students who opt-in to Search were contacted by colleges among students graduating in 2020 and 2021.
